This Magician Makes People Do Totally Crazy Things In Public

12 Mar, 2016  Hilarious

YouTube is filled with prank videos which can make you laugh your guts out. But the problem with them is that many of them are extremely similar. But this video over here has a different angle to it. The prankster here is a magician, or at least, that's what he calls himself, and ends up making people do crazy stuff in public! Check it out.

Joseph Costello.

Joseph Costello is the prankster who's going to go around telling people he's a street magician, and end up using the opportunity to make people do crazy stuff in public.

First target.
So he has found his first target.

Handing him a card...

Just like a real magician usually does. He now instructs the man on what he's supposed to do for the magic to work.
And look what he's making him do!

A fresh new target.

He hands him a card too...
And he's fooled into doing crazy things too!

There's another one!
And one more...

Even this old couple is not spared!
